Patient Care Philosophy:

I treat my patients like they are my family and friends, and the well-being of my patients is always my goal.

My patient care philosophy is to treat the patient, not the image. I believe the best treatment plan is decided together with the patient. I base my treatments on the goals of the patient, as well as the pathology that the patient presents with. Conservative treatment is always my goal, however if surgery is necessary I am often able to provide a minimally-invasive approach, particularly in surgery of the spine.

Personal Interests:

In his spare time, Dr. McCabe enjoys competitive powerlifting and outdoor activities, including rock climbing and hiking.
